STUDENT VOLUNTEER MOVEMENT.

The fifth convention of the Student Volunteer Movement for Foreign Missions met at Nashville, Tenn., February 28th to March 4th. This assembly of young men and young women from educational institutions in the United States and Canada, together with delegates from prominent mission societies of other countries, and missionaries on furlough from the great mission fields of the world, was the greatest convention of its kind in history.

Two decades have been completed since the movement was inaugurated at Mt. Hermon, Mass., when one hundred delegates offered themselves for the work of bringing the millions of heathendom to a knowledge of the light and power of Christianity. Since that first convention back in the eighties, when 251 delegates from eighty-nine colleges in the United States and Canada came together, the movement has held four conventions, each surpassing its predecessor in attendance and in import for the work which it represented.

The motto of the movement is "The Evangelization of the World in this generation," which still sends inspiration into the hearts and into the lives of all Christians whether at home or abroad.

The movement has a four fold purpose (1) to lead students to a thorough consideration of the claims of foreign missions upon them as a life-work; (2) to foster the purpose of all students who decide to become foreign missionaries, by helping to guide and to stimulate them in mission study and in work for missions until they pass under the direct direction of the mission boards; (3) to unite all volunteers in an organized, aggressive movement; (4) to create and maintain an intelligent, sympathetic, active interest in foreign missions among the students who are to remain at home in order that they may back up this great enterprise by their prayers, their gifts, and their efforts.

The Nashville convention has become a matter of history, but it has not passed without leaving behind some important facts. It is to be noted that never before since creation's dawn have the strongholds of darkness been so approachable for the civilizing forces of Christianity. Never before has the rank and file of the church at home, irrespective of denomination or creed, been so awake to the tremendous importance and vast possibilities of the spread of the gospel of Jesus Christ to the uttermost regions of the world. The command of the master "Go ye therefore and teach all nations" has more power over the Christian mind and life to-day than ever before, for men and women are coming to realize that greater than social preferment and financial prowess is the privilege of being a herald of glad tidings to those who sit in darkness.

WHITLOCK ORATORICAL CONTEST.

Won by Phillip E. Curtiss, Henri De W. De Mauriac Second.

The annual contest for the Frank W. Whitlock oratorical prize was held in Alumni Hall last Friday night and the judges, John Lee Bunce, Backus Williams and the Rev. Francis Creswick Todd, awarded the first prize to Phillip Everett Curtiss, whose subject was "Wordsworth as a Nature Poet," and the second to Henri de Wolf de Mauriac, who spoke on "John Hay." This makes the second time that Curtis has won first and he is the only one who has secured the first prize twice.

A fair sized audience listened to the contest, over which Professor Ferguson presided. Before the speeches, and while the judges were making their decision, the Glee Club, furnished music.

CAPTAIN.

E. J. Donnelly '08 Elected.

At a meeting of the members of this year's basket ball team, Edwin J. Donnelly '08 of Brooklyn was elected captain for the season of 1906-07.

This has been the first year that Donnelly has played on the team, being kept out of the game during his freshman year by injuries received in football. However, during the past season he has been one of the star men of the team.

Under his leadership and with him in the game we may hope next year to have a more successful season than the one just finished.

The third S. D. C. banquet was held at the Hartford Hotel on the evening of Friday, March 9th. The toastmaster, Mr. C. L. Trumbull, called for the following toasts: "Athletics," Mr. Donnelly; "1908," Mr. MacGuyer; "The Children," Mr. Taylor; "Our Relations with Wesleyan," Mr. Cross; "Trinity Customs," Mr. Butterworth; and "S. D. C.," Mr. Budd.

Those present at the banquet were: Messrs. Hill Burgwin and W. S. W. Fisk of 1906, and Messrs. Budd, Butterworth, Cross, Donnelly, Edsall, Geer, MacGuyer, Morris, Pond, Randall, Stevens, Taylor, and Trumbull, of 1908. Messrs. Bowne, Burwell, and Pierce of 1906 and Messrs. Bryant and De Mauriac 1907 came in during the course of the evening, and they and Messrs. Fiske and Burgwin took part in the impromptu speeches, which were characterized by great college spirit.

On Sunday morning Professor Merrill preached at Trinity church, New Haven, and Professor Brenton at St. John's church, Hartford. Professor Ferguson had an evening service in Rockville.

DAVID MORRIS FACKLER '06.

His Sudden Death, After a Short Illness With Typhoid Fever, a Shock to the College.

David Morris Fackler '06, died Friday evening in Wilkesbarre, Pa., of typhoid fever, after a short illness of but two weeks. The news came to his friends at college as a great shock, because he was a man much respected for his fine character and his earnestness in doing good.

DAVID MORRIS FACKLER.

Mr. Fackler entered with the class of nineteen hundred and six, but, anxious to begin as soon as possible in his chosen profession of electrical engineering, and having nearly completed the work necessary for a degree, entered the employ of the Westinghouse Electric Company at Williamsburg, Pa. He entered to receive his degree at Trinity with his class this June. He was a member of the Alpha Delta Phi fraternity.

Mr. Fackler's parents live in New York City, where the funeral was held yesterday afternoon.

PRIZES FOR ECONOMIC ESSAYS.

College Men Will Compete — They are Offered by Chicago Committee.

In order to arouse interest in the study of topics relating to commerce and industry, as well as to aid in determining the value of a college education to a business man, a committee headed by Professor J. L. Laughlin of the University of Chicago will offer again in 1907 four prizes for the best essays on any one of the following subjects:

1. The practical wisdom of freeing raw materials, essential to subsequent manufactures, from customs duties when entering the United States.
2. The best methods of obtaining an elastic currency in times of panic.
3. To what extent, and in what form are Socialistic tenets held in the United States?
4. In what respect, and to what extent, have combinations among American railways limited or modified the influence of competition?
5. The best methods of avoiding resort to force by labor unions in their contests with employers.

6. The effect of "trusts" upon the prices of goods produced by them.

7. How far does the earning power of skill obtain under a regime of trade unions?

8. A critical study of modern commercial methods for distributing products to consumers.

9. The development of economic theory since John Stuart Mill.

Competitors are divided into two classes, as follows:

Class A. American college graduates since and including the class of 1895. First prize, $1,000; second, $500.

Class B. Undergraduates of any American college. First prize, $300; second prize, $150.

No one in Class A may compete in Class B, but anyone in Class B may compete in Class A.

The prizes are offered through the generosity of Messrs. Hart, Schaffner and Marx, of Chicago. Papers must be sent in on or before June 1, 1907.

BASE BALL.

The base ball team has been out of doors for an entire week and on the field itself for the last two days. If there is no more cold weather our prospects should be the brightest.

The schedule at present contains eighteen games and among them the best of the eastern universities and colleges. One unfortunate fact in connection with our schedule is the fact that it has been necessary to cancel our game with Williams at Williamstown. Amherst also will not meet Trinity on the diamond this year as they are going on a far western trip which takes in the date that was arranged for the Trinity-Amherst game.

Captain Powell is working very hard to develop his men into shape for a successful season and though he has several new men to develop, is confident of having a good team.

Manager George is endeavoring to add a few more games to his schedule before it is published.

Assistant Manager Cross has scheduled five games thus far for the Trinity second team and it is hoped that this will be one of the features of the base-ball season.

MR. DAVIS PLAYED AT MUSICAL SERVICE.

There was an attendance of eighty-six, including students and their friends, at the musical vesper service in the chapel on Sunday afternoon. The programme included an organ recital by Mr. William B. Davis, trainer of the Glee Club. Mr. Davis is organist and choirmaster of the church of the Holy Trinity, Middletown.

The Glee Club rendered a selection from "Elijah," and Mr. Butler sang a solo. A hymn was also sung by a quartet consisting of Gateson, Butler, Cunningham and Chandler.

Trinity Tripod

Published Tuesdays and Fridays in each week of the college year by students of Trinity College.

The columns of THE TRIPOD are at all times open to Alumni, Undergraduates and others for the free discussion of matters of interest to Trinity men. To aid in this purpose THE TRIPOD mail box has been placed in the section entrance of Middle Jarvis.

All communications, or material of any sort for Tuesday's issue must be in the TRIPOD box before 10 p.m. on Sunday; for Friday's issue before 10 a.m. on Thursday.

TO ALUMNI.

THE TRIPOD is published for the Alumni even more than for the Undergraduates. With this in mind we are striving to produce a paper which shall be interesting and necessary to Graduates, and also to reach as large a number as possible. We are very largely dependent on the Alumni both for our moral and financial support. If you are not already a subscriber will you kindly give this matter your attention?

"NOW THEN—TRINITY!"

EDITORIAL.

A very deep sorrow has fallen upon the college body on account of the death of David Morris Fackler. Especially does this reach the hearts of the members of the senior class who were closely associated with him for three years of his college course. By them he was respected and loved for his exceptional gentleness of manners and earnestness of action. In all that he was given to do he acquitted himself well and he was ever seeking to help others. His death is to those who knew him a very real and deep loss. To his family we wish to express our deepest sympathy in their bereavement.

At a meeting of the class of 1906 yesterday morning it was voted that the president appoint a committee to draw up suitable resolutions in regard to the death of David Morris Fackler of that class. The class also voted to wear mourning for fifteen days.

MRS. EMILY M. ELIOT.

Widow of Former President of Trinity is Dead.

Mrs. Emily M. Eliot, widow of Samuel Eliot, president of Trinity College from 1860 to 1864, and principal of the Boston Latin School, died suddenly Tuesday in Boston. Mrs. Eliot was born in Boston in 1832 and was a descendant of one of the oldest families of the city, being fifth in descent from James Otis. Her father was William F. Otis, and her mother was a member of the Marshall family.

MR. BASSETT IN REGARD TO TRINITY.

We print below an interesting extract from the "Trinity Chronicle," the weekly newspaper of Trinity College, Durham, N. C., in regard to Mr. Bassett's visit here and also a copy of his letter to Professor McCook.

"A 'Chronicle' reporter interviewed the Professor on his return and found him enthusiastic in regard to the Hartford Trinity."

"What do you think of our Northern friends?" he was asked.

"I think they are true Trinitarians—whole souled, courteous, and full of the spirit of work," he replied. "The faculty impress me as exceedingly earnest men, committed like our own faculty, to develop jointly the best spiritual and intellectual powers of the students. The buildings are adequate and one of them is quite a fine one. The campus is just the size of ours, and it is beautifully located on the banks of the Connecticut river. As I looked over it, with its covering of snow, I thought of our own boys, far away, practicing for base ball; and I wondered if they realize how much they are indebted to nature for the finest winter climate in America."

Durham, N. C., Mar. 5, 1906.

Dear Professor McCook,—

I am deeply appreciative of your kind letter, and I hasten to say that I did not say in the interview in the "Chronicle" half as much as I might have said in behalf of the kind reception which I received from the Trinity at Hartford. The thing which struck me at once when I spoke to your president and realized what your college means was this: Why this is just what we stand for. I mean the union of religious and intellectual development in the minds of students and general public. May each Trinity live long and realize in the best way its excellent purposes, and may Professor McCook continue to prosper; if fate might bring him to these parts and if once here he would make his speech about the solution of the race problem, I should give him a hearty Methodist "Amen;" and I don't think he would object to it.

Yours sincerely,

J. S. Bassett.

ALUMNI DEPARTMENT.

'49—Dr. Charles Augustus Lindsley, up to a short time ago the secretary and veteran head of the state board of health, died at his home to-day of heart trouble. While he had been afflicted with the disease for some years it had not troubled him seriously and he was able to be about the streets until a few days ago.

Dr. Lindsley was born in Orange, N.
J., August 19, 1826. He went to Trinity College, where he received the degree of A. B. and A. M. in 1849. After graduating, he was attracted to the study of medicine, and studied under Dr. Asa J. Driggs of Cheshire, Conn. After taking two courses of lectures in Yale, he received, in 1852, the degree of M. D. At the age of 34 he was appointed professor of materia medica and therapeutics at Yale and filled that post until 1883. From 1865 to 1877 he held the office of secretary of the Hospital Society, and from '74 to '88 he was health officer of New Haven. He was a member of the New Haven Medical Society for many years, and in '77 he served as president. Dr. Lindsley also held a membership in the general hospital society of Connecticut, and was an honorary member of the New Jersey Medical Association. He was president of the American Medical Society, '91-'92.

DR. CHAS. AGUSTUS LINDSLEY.

At the time of his death he was president of the International Conference of State and Provincial Boards of Health. He was one of the originators of the New Haven Dispensary in 1863, vice-president till the death of Governor English, and since that time had been president of that beneficent institution.

In 1858 he published his first paper,
"A Dissertation on Puerperal Convulsions." From 1874-1887 he edited the annual reports of the New Haven board of health. Others of his works are "Registration of Vital Statistics in Connecticut," "Sanitary and Unsanitary Conditions of the Soil." In 1880 his subject was, "Prevailing Methods of Sewage Disposal," and in 1881, he published "Vaccination."

He had been secretary of the state board of health since 1884.

On April 13, 1852, he married Lydia L. Harrison of Orange, N. J. They have had three children, one Harrison
M., who was an architect, and who died December 27, 1893, C. Purdy, an M. D., and Caroline.

The Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance Company,

HARTFORD, CONN.,

Why should I insure my life?

Because it is a debt you owe to those who are dependent upon your earnings for their support.

You admit that it is your duty to supply their needs from day to day, but forget that it is equally your duty to provide an ever ready and sufficient equivalent for your earning power, which your family stands in constant jeopardy to lose by your premature death.

Guard your family against disaster and yourself against dependency in old age.

When should I insure my life?

Now! The cost will never be less, and tomorrow you may not be able to obtain insurance at any price.

Even if others are not now dependent upon you, take time by the forelock and you will be the better able to meet future responsibilities, and at a smaller premium.

Where shall I insure my life?

In a purely Mutual Company.

In a company that earns, declares, and pays annual dividends.

In a company that is doing a conservative business.

Such a Company is The Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance Company of Hartford, Conn. It furnishes perfect protection at lowest cost.
